GlenFarrow's industry-leading batch-fed biomass boilers, log dryers and woodchip dryers burn wood and straw to provide heat for many applications, reducing your fuel costs and increasing your income.

We offer our range of biomass boilers as complete systems, fully installed by our expert team. This ensures all the work is carried out to GlenFarrow's exact specification and that it's all covered by our comprehensive 3-year warranty, with your first service free.

We offer free site surveys to calculate the feasibility of the project, designing a bespoke solution for your exact heating requirements.
